Night's Dream*

AWSP
2020

A Note From the Director

This wasn't a typical year for anyone in the world, but this was a very special year for me. Not too long ago, I was an AWSP student, and now I am the Director - the first alumnus to ever direct the group!

I've thoroughly enjoyed working with the kids and their families. It was great to be able to pass on what I learned when I was a student at AWSP, and share in the fun and excitement of putting a play together. I feel privileged to have had the opportunity to continue the tradition of outstanding programming that AWSP has provided to me and to many others for so long.

Although we had to alter our performances this year, it has still been a fantastic experience for me. I hope that everyone who participated is left with a sense of what it's like to be a part of the very special AWSP community and plans to return next year to join us again for another great year.

ABOUT AWSP

Now in its 12th year, All the World's a Stage Players is a nonprofit educational program that offers homeschool students ages 8 - 18 an opportunity to learn about Shakespeare by performing in and producing full-length productions of his plays. We rehearse and perform at the Chelmsford Center for the Arts.

SPECIAL THANKS

There are so many people to thank this year, for many different reasons. Everyone worked hard together as a group and community to make each week enriching and enjoyable, but we'd like to extend special thanks to the following people:

*Before the year even started, Tammy Adams, Colleen Sullivan, and Joyce Carmack worked very hard to maintain the integrity and mission of the group, and succeeded in laying a strong foundation upon which AWSP can grow and continue to serve the homeschool community for many years to come. AWSP is truly grateful for their dedication, commitment, advice, wisdom, and consistent support.

*Alumni Jessica Tschantret and Matthew Roberts provided much needed support at each rehearsal. Jess eagerly assisted with stage managing, worked with new actors, and entertained and supervised actors' young siblings. Matthew did everything from stage managing to website and social media design and administration. Thank you, Jess and Matthew!

*Professional Artist April Parker generously donated her time and talent to the design and creation of the beautiful hand-painted background scenery. Thank you, April. The kids really enjoyed getting messy with you!

Mikayla Dalton (mother of Joseph [Egeus], Katerina [Peaseblossom], and Leo), created the absolutely beautiful headshots of the kids that appear in the playbill. The images look professional, thanks to Mikayla's incredible creativity and attention to detail. We will all enjoy these photos for many years to come. Thank you, Mikayla!

Angel Jackson (mother of Sam [Theseus], Matthew [Starveling], and Emily) has worked extremely hard and without much recognition behind the scenes all year in many different capacities, including managing finances, managing the website and Facebook page, publicizing the group, and setting up the group's first-ever online ticket program. But Angel also came through for the group at the most challenging time of the year by lending her skills and experience with podcasts and audio recordings to the creation and production of AWSP's first ever audio recording/performance! Thanks to Angel's significant hard work, the group was able to put on a "performance" this year after all - one that everyone can enjoy over and over again. Thank you for everything, Angel!
